

The Bruno Gröning Stiftung has set itself the task of making available at the cheapest possible price the historical sources by and on Bruno Gröning from the period of his activity in versions that are true to the original documents and without any changes or modifications. You can help with the cost of producing these CDs and books. Support the Bruno Gröning Stiftung by helping to finance its projects, including:

- the production of new CDs containing more original talks by Bruno Gröning with optimized sound quality
- the production of books with printed versions of Bruno Gröning's talks in German and other languages
- the production of books containing accounts of events given by contemporary witnesses and translating them into other languages
